

Saving One Million Hearts

A luncheon benefiting the Healthy Hearts Education Program

Tuesday, May 20, 2014 Embassy Suites – Tigard, Ore.

The Saving One Million Hearts event will raise funds and awareness to support the Middle School Healthy Hearts Program for seventh-grade students in the South Metro area.

MIDDLE SCHOOL HEALTHY HEARTS PROGRAM

The Middle School Healthy Hearts Program is a free two-session class for seventh-graders in Tualatin, Tigard, West Linn, Wilsonville, Beaverton and Lake Oswego schools. The first session addresses controllable risk factors; such as food choices, smoking and inactivity. By teaching teens the importance of good lifestyle choices, we help them grow into healthy, responsible adults. The second session trains students in hands-only CPR where they practice on manikins. This training will help create a generation of lifesavers; capable of providing confident assistance in case of an emergency. To date we have educated 2,600 kids!

EVIDENCE-BASED CURRICULUM

The program curriculum is based on the Middle School Healthy Hearts Study conducted by researchers at Legacy Research Institute. The research concluded kids could successfully learn and retain the information necessary to implement healthy behavior changes in their lives.

By educating middle school students on heart health and hands-only CPR, Legacy Meridian Park Medical Center hopes to reduce risk factors for cardiovascular disease through promoting lifelong healthful choices, as well as the skills to save a life in the event of a cardiac arrest.
